

Arms & Armour

Let's learn a little more about arms and armours today.

Since the time of pre-history to the present, self-preservation, protection, and war have always been an inseparable part of human society. Due to these factors, Arms, as well as Armours, became part of our society.

National Museum has an extensive collection of Arms and Armours. Indian weapons like bows, daggers, shields, helmets, foot armours and armours for the protection of animals were used in battles. But few were used for decoration also.

Did you know that armours were known by various other names too? Look carefully as your answers are in this word puzzle. Can you guess their names in Hindi?
